

Weill Cornell Policy on Exhibits at Continuing Medical Education Activities

1. Exhibits associated with CME activities must be disclosed on CME applications and approved by the Weill Cornell CME Committee. The budget for any exhibits must be disclosed on this application.
2. Arrangements for commercial exhibits or advertisements cannot influence the planning or interfere with the presentation of CME activities, nor can they be a condition of the provision of commercial support for CME activities.
3. Exhibits must be placed in a space separate from the educational activity space. This space must not be on an obligatory path to the educational activity.
4. A separate contract must be used for exhibit arrangements and approved by the CME Committee. That contract will contain the terms, conditions, and prohibitions regarding exhibits associated with the education activity.
5. Exhibit income will be accounted for separately from commercial support income and will be disclosed on all CME application materials.
6. A list of exhibitors will be provided to the CME Committee in order for them to assess any potential conflict of interest in this activity.
