

POLICY ON ONGOING CONFERENCES

As a provider of CME activities accredited by the Accreditation Council on Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), Weill Medical Medical College supports the approval of ongoing educational activities for CME. For an ongoing activity to be eligible for CME credit approval, it must meet all ACCME and Weill Cornell Guidelines on CME activities.

Of note is that for regularly scheduled meetings and conferences, the committee will pay special attention to the criteria of educational design and content of the activity, and evaluation of the activity in its deliberations.

All activities must include some planned scholarly presentation (not necessarily a lecture), and must include some means of evaluating the educational effectiveness of the activity.